

From the N. Y. Evening Post.
POLKERS.
SIGNS IN THE SOUTH, ON THE GREAT FATHER OF WATERS.

Vote taken on the steamboat Juda, from St. Louis to New Orleans—for Polk, 28; for Clay, 14.
On the Concordia, from New Orleans to Natchez—Polk, 19; Clay, 4.
On the Missouri, from New Orleans to St. Louis—Polk, 27; Clay, 20.
On the Highlander, from St. Louis to New Orleans—Polk, 30; Clay, 16.
On the Belle, of Arkansas, from New Orleans to Louisville—Polk, 29; Clay, 18.

On the Fawn, from Louisville to New Orleans—Polk, 120; Clay, 90.
On the Importer, from Louisville to N. Orleans—Polk, 40; Clay, 7.
On the West Wind, from Louisville to New Orleans:

Gentlemen's Cabin—Polk,	40
" " " " " " " " " " " "	41
Ladies' Cabin—Polk,	11
" " " " " " " " " " " "	7
Deck Passengers—Polk,	26
" " " " " " " " " " " "	1

Such are the signs in the South and West. In every case the taking of the vote was proposed by the Whigs and urged by them. In no case but one was the vote of the officers of the boat taken, that on the Missouri, the officers all whigs—result as above, Polk, 27, Clay, 20. In every case, except that of the West Wind, the Whigs refused to take the vote of the deck passengers, deck hands or firemen, which, if taken, would have shown a majority in favor of Polk, of three to one.

These are the steamboat votes, as insisted on by the Whigs, as a fair index of public sentiment. So we go here.

I learn from the passengers on the downward bound boats, that the Great Father of Waters is studded with hickory poles, (the American flag and Polk and Dallas floating from the top), from St. Louis to the Balize.

Louisiana is safe for Polk by 3000 votes, Mississippi by 5000. Whigs here will no longer bet, bet, bet on the general result.

LOUISIANA.

Tennessee Safe!

The Home of the Hickories "Eager for the Fray."

We now have the RELIABLE DATA before us, from sources the most unquestionable, which enables us to make a formal announcement to the Democracy throughout the Union, that TENNESSEE will, on Tuesday, the 5th day of November next, cast Thirteen Electoral Votes for JAMES K. POLK and GEORGE M. DALLAS. We have taken great care to ascertain this fact; and we are now perfectly certain of it, as though it were already officially recorded. Tennesseeans have determined to do it—they know their exact strength—they are prepared to do it—they are "eager for the fray."

Naval—The Pensacola Gazette of the 19th ult., says: "The U. S. brig Lawrence, Commander Jarvis, sailed from this port on Sunday last for Vera Cruz, where, if we are correctly informed, she will await the return of Gen. Duff Green, from Mexico, and if he should be the bearer of despatches from our Minister, Mr. Shannon, of consequence to our government, she will immediately convey him to any port he may designate in the U. States, or elsewhere."

Naval—The U. S. frigate Potomac, and brig-of-war Somers, sailed on the 28th ult., from Philadelphia, for the Gulf of Mexico. The U. S. ship Warren, Hull, was at the Marquesa Islands, about four months since, bound to Oahu and China.

From Jamaica.—We learn that Capt. Ray, of the Commodore Hull, arrived yesterday from Jamaica, reports that the gale of the 6th ult., was extremely severe around the Island. The American brig, Eastern Star, of Portland, which sailed a short time previous for Black River, to load for New York, lost both anchors and chains, and suffered in sails and rigging, and was obliged to put back. Nineteen vessels were ashore in Montego Bay, and great numbers at other parts of the Island, the details of which had not reached port when he left.—N. Y. Eve. Post.

Later from St. Domingo.—By the arrival of the brig Republic, from Port au Prince, Oct. 18th, through the politeness of Captain Hoyt, we have the following: All parts of the island is quiet. Great preparations were making for the reception of the President, Guerrier, from Cape Haytien, where he has been residing for some months past. A triumphal arch has been erected for him to pass under, as he enters the city.

The blacks spare neither labor nor expense to testify their love and regard for their white masters. Markets dull, completely overstocked with American produce, about 7,000 barrels in store, and selling for $17 (Hay) per bbl. Coffee scarce, demand small, there were but three foreign vessels in port, four Americans, and one French.

The Providence, (R. I.) Theatre, together with Dr. Lardner's Philosophical Apparatus, and Russell's Planetarium, was destroyed by fire on the 25th ult. Dr. Lardner's loss is estimated at $15,000, upon which no insurance had been effected.

Death of Judge Morgan of New Orleans.—The Hon. Thomas N. Morgan, of New Orleans, died at Nashville, Tenn., of consumption, on the 2d ult.

Plunder of Friends.
The yearly epistle of the Society of Friends in Great Britain for 1844, says:—"The amount of the sufferings of our members in the support of our testimony against ecclesiastical demands, including the expenses of disclaim, is upwards of eleven thousand one hundred pounds," or over $55,000. This is the plunder which the English State Church makes in one year from the Friends alone. It plunders all dissenters in the same style.

MARRIED.
In Brooklyn, New York, on Tuesday, the 23d ult., by the Rev. George H. Shelton, Mr. Moses W. Jarvis, of New Bern, N. C., to Mrs. Francis F. Waters, of Bushwick, L. Island.

In Moore co., on the 23d ult., Mr. Hugh C. McLean, to Miss Caroline Hill, daughter of Mr. Arthur J. Hill, of this vicinity.

DIED.
In this town, on Sunday morning last, Mrs. Eliza Jones, aged 25 years, wife of Mr. R. D. Jones, and daughter of the late John Russ, of Bladen co. She has left many relatives and friends to lament her loss.

Near the city of Philadelphia, on Friday, 11th ult., Isaac Norfleet, Esq., of Edgecombe co., in this State, in the 64th year of his age. In Salisbury, on the 19th ult., after a short illness, MARY ANN, wife of John W. Ellis, Esq., aged 21 years;—only child of Philo White, former editor of this paper. The intelligence of this interesting young lady's death, struck through my heart like a dagger of ice. A few weeks ago she stood a bride at the altar. But yesterday I saw her in the pride of youth and beauty by the side of her young husband, the very image of health and joyousness, with fair prospects of a long and happy life. But now that health-giving cheek is pale in death, those beaming eyes are quenched forever, the shroud and winding sheet have displaced the bridal attire, and the name which so lately woke warm in the heart emotions of love and joy and pride is hushed or breathed softly as a name no longer of earth.—for the innocent and pure, for we trust that angels hovering around have wooed a sister spirit from earth. But there is one over whom we shed the anguished tear, one who has painfully realized that love and death dwell in the same world. May that Providence which "tempereth the wind to the shorn lamb" so sanctify this affliction, that his wrong soul may be led to Him who is alone able to afford consolation to woes for which earth has no comfort.—Ral. Standard.
